Rototuna Shopping Centre
2/44 Horsham Downs Road

In a career spanning more than five decades, Waikato icon Ruth Davey has mastered several printmaking techniques. Here we present line etchings with aquatint tones, a woodcut, and a deep-bite etching inked with viscosity roll-up. Many of Ruth's prints and drawings, and nearly 200 of her sketchbooks, are held in the collection of Waikato Museum. Others of her prints, framed and unframed, are available for inspection and purchase at Waikato Society of Arts. All proceeds from the sale of Ruth's art go to the Ruth Davey Merit in Printmaking prize at the annual New Zealand Painting and Printmaking Awards.

Next Level Gallery - Children's Matariki Exhibition

23rd June - 13th July

Four of our older children's classes are excited to be holding a joint exhibition from June 23rd to July 13th in celebration of Matariki. There is sure to be a wonderful and vibrant variety of art on display showing the children's interpretation of Matariki and what it stands for. The classes exhibiting are: Rhiannon's Tuesday 10-14 year olds, Paulette's Wednesday 8-12 year olds, & Gemma's Friday 8-12 year olds & Saturday 10-13 year olds. Be sure to pop into the gallery to view these and to support our next generation of artists.

'Fidget Blanket' packs for sale - $10

One of our lovely WSA tutors and WSA member Dabau Singh-Heer has been making 'Fidget Blankets' for dementia patients and with the help of WSA member Amanda Talsma-Williams has helped us create packs you can purchase for $10. The packs contain fabric pieces and embellishments for you to make a fidget blanket you can either give to someone you know with dementia or donate to Dementia Waikato. Thank you to the DV Brant Trust for helping fund this community initiative.

You make a 'Fidget Blanket' by sewing fabric pieces together incorporating embellishments that can be manipulated and moved eg zips, buttons, ties/ribbons, beads, buckles etc. They are especially therapeutic for dementia patients and dementia care homes are in need of them. The $10 you pay for the pack will also be donated to Dementia Waikato
